Employment Services for New Immigrants in Taiwan

勞動部勞動力發展署
WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT AGENCY, MINISTRY OF LABOR

英文

Service Targets

New Immigrants

- Foreigners and residents of mainland China, Hong Kong, and Macau married to R.O.C. nationals with household registration in the R.O.C. and have received approval for residence in Taiwan.
- Those who originally qualified above and, after divorce or the passing of their spouses, are still legally allowed to continue living and working in the Taiwan Area.
- Those who meet the above two conditions and have been approved for permanent residence in the Taiwan Area or have acquired R.O.C. nationality through naturalization.

Employment Information

Toll-free Hotline

0800-777-888 For job seeking
1955 For consultation and complaints
(Service provided in English, Indonesian, Vietnamese, and Thai)

Employment Service Bases across Taiwan

Scan the QR codes for online services.

- TaiwanJobs
- Workforce Development Digital Services Platform
- IFI Network

WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT AGENCY, MINISTRY OF LABOR
Address: 4F, South Wing, No. 439, Zhongping Road, Xinzhuang District, New Taipei City
Telephone: (02)8995-6000

Advertisement

Tips of Employment Services

Tip 1: Employment Services

- New immigrants can bring valid ARC to public employment service centers for individualized services.
- Search job openings, training programs, and job fairs on TaiwanJobs.

TaiwanJobs

Tip 2: Vocational Training

- Unemployed new immigrants can join vocational training for free.
- You may also receive a living allowance of 60% of the minimum wage during training.

Pre-service training

Tip 3: Startup Assistance

- Join government-offered entrepreneurship classes and consultation services for free.
- New immigrants with the R.O.C. ID Card or aged 45 and above with ARC can apply for startup loans and interest subsidies.
- For mor information, visit the Micro-Business Startup Phoenix Program Website or call 0800-092-957 (toll-free).

Micro-Business Startup Phoenix

Tip 4: Skill Test Assistance

- When taking national technician skill tests, new immigrants may request Mandarin audio for certain written items.
- New immigrants with specific status and eligible for participating in various categories of tests may apply for subsidies on the fees of written test, technical test, registration qualification review, and the license issuance when taking the skill tests.

Skill Evaluation Center

Employment Promotion Subsidies

What employment subsidies are available for new immigrants?

- Temporary Work Allowance: At minimum hourly wage rate, with the total not exceeding the minimum monthly wage rate, for a maximum of 6 months.
- Job Training and Readjustment Program Subsidies: At minimum hourly wage rate, with the total not exceeding the minimum monthly wage rate, for a maximum of 3 months
- Subsidies for the Labor Shortage, the Resident Care Attendants, and the Construction: Industries: NT$5,000 to NT$7,000 per month at the maximum of NT$108,000 (sum of these three categories), for a maximum of 18 months.

What subsidies are available to employers of new immigrants?

- Hiring Subsidy and Award: NT$11,000 per month (monthly-paid employee) or NT$60 per hour (non-monthly-paid employee) per person as hired by the same employer for a maximum of 12 months.
- Management and Consultation Subsidy to the Employers: NT$5,000 per month or 30% of the actual job training and readjustment subsidies, for a maximum of 3 months.
- For application assistance, please contact public employment service centers nationwide.